Control Panels

AMR PEMCO's two panel shops provide standard, or customized turnkey solutions for all of your control panel needs. Our years of experience in the mining, power, transit, water, and waste water sectors offer various standardized designs to choose from. However, we also recognize that every project has unique challenges, and thus we offer fully customized solutions to meet your specifications.

AMR PEMCO can also provide contract manufacturing services through our two sister companies. Therefore, even if you are not in need of our automation integration services, we can provide high quality control panel manufacturing no matter how big or small the project.

Benefits
